Reference for Membership Application

The Hong Kong Psychological Society Ltd. (HKPS) is both a learned society and a professional association of all specialties of psychology in Hong Kong, founded in 1968. Its objectives are to promote and advance the scientific study and professional practice of psychology for the benefit of the community; to promote the dissemination of psychological knowledge and education, locally, nationally and internationally; and to promote high standards and guide ethical practice in the teaching, research, professional training and practice of psychology.

To be a Member of the Society, an applicant must at least possess either a Bachelor degree for which psychology has been taken as a main subject, or a postgraduate qualification in psychology, from a university or other tertiary institution approved by the Council. Applicants unable to find a Member to nominate their application must attach 2 relevant academic / professional references in support of their application.
